TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5.

"Greater Columbia." Including the suburbs of South Carolina's capital, has a population of 11,000, according to the United States census figures just announced. The population of the city within its incorporated limits is 7,324. The suburbs just across the Congaree river from the suburbs in Lexington county, will number 11,000. One of the suburbs is in Lexington county, just across the Congaree river from the city. This is just as much a part of Columbia, commercially, as any one of its suburbs. The population of Richland county is 73,122.

NOTICE — CROSBY-SIMPSON WAREHOUSE COMPANY.

Inasmuch as the Crosby-Simpson Warehouse Company is going to discontinue business as cotton warehousemen, all parties holding warehouse receipts for cotton stored in said company are hereby requested and required to present their warehouse certificates to the undersigned within thirty (30) days from date of date of this notice, so that certificates of the Chester County Farmers' Warehouse Company may be exchanged for the certificates of this company; this company having arranged with said Warehouse Company to store the undelivered cotton of its former customers and patrons. All parties indebted to this company for storage of cotton are hereby urgently requested to settle their indebtedness to this company forthwith, so that the business of this company may be wound up and liquidated.

YOUNG WOMAN TRIES TO END HER LIFE BY TAKING DEADLY POISON.

Union, Oct. 4. — A near tragedy was enacted in the West section of this city when a very pretty young woman about 33 years old tried to end her life by taking a very potent narcotic which is used to remove corns and which is composed of 270 drops of ether and 71 drops of cyanide.

The young woman was from Western North Carolina and came to Union a month or six weeks ago to work in one of the mills here. According to rumor, when her husband appeared on the scene she took the poison for he is quoted as expressing to the physician who attended her that she "would rather die than go back with my husband."

When it was found that the woman had taken the deadly mixture, a physician was summoned and it was after about four hours of hard work that her life was saved.

The husband is said to have looked to be about 26 years old and came from a lumber camp. He returned to his home Saturday morning unaccompanied.

Trouble Sure Enough.
Doris rushed to her mother one day in a most excited manner.
"Oh, mother, we've been playing possum and we gave every lady on our block a letter!"
"But, dear, where did you get the letters?"
"Why we found them in your trunk in the garret all tied up with pink ribbon."

5,000 COWS FOR GERMANY.

Berlin Officials Anxious to Accept American Offer.
Berlin, Sept. 16. — The German Department of Agriculture and the German Red Cross are trying to help Americans who have offered to send 5,000 cows to Germany to obtain extra space in vessels to send the cattle across the Atlantic. The latter official maritime board announced that it was unable to supply the tonnage required.

The department of agriculture has sent an expert to the United States to find the ships needed to bring the cattle to Germany. Meanwhile, the Red Cross has been trying to smooth away the difficulties here and obtain permission to receive the much delayed animals. The department is due to confusion and inspection of the cattle when they arrive.

The Red Cross officials estimate that the cost of freight charges will average $50 a head.

While no restrictions are placed upon the breed of cattle desired, it is pointed out that Holsteins more readily acclimate themselves as they are the predominant breed in Germany.

MARSHALL RESIGNS OFFICE ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL.

Columbia, Oct. 2. — Major P. G. Marshall, Assistant Adjutant General, today announced his resignation to take effect October 14th. As yet Governor Cooper has not named a successor.

Major Marshall served as captain in the world war and will be stationed at Camp Jackson. He is the youngest man to serve as assistant adjutant general of this State.

The wise man tries to keep the friends he has rather than making an effort to make new ones.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION TAKES OVER PART OF YORK ROADS.

York, Oct. 2. — York county road authorities have completed arrangements for the taking over and maintenance of a small mileage of York roads by the State highway department. This arrangement, it is believed, will result in some permanent improvements on several of the most traveled highways in the county.

Decision has been reached to use the two mile levy on the York-Rock Hill road over a distance of one and three-tenths miles with an expenditure of $6,500. The same distance on the York-Chester road will be covered at a cost of $15,000, while the remainder of the available cash amounting to $5,500, will be used in work on the road from York to the North Carolina line. The department previously took over four miles of road between York and Rock Hill and four miles between Rock Hill and Fort Mill, three miles of the latter being of concrete and one mile of macadam.

MISSISS NETH SIMPSON AND LOUISA PEAY, OF WINTHROP COLLEGE, SPENT THE WEEK-END IN CHESTER AT THEIR HOME.

The various churches of Chester joined in a farewell service at Purdy Presbyterian church Sunday evening to Rev. J. M. Bennett, who has accepted a call to the St. Andrew's church at Wilmington, N. C. Rev. L. M. White, chairman of the Chester Ministerial Association presided over the services. A large number of people attended the service, the church being crowded to capacity.

OPPOSE ANNEXATION.

Numerous voters and property owners of a section of Rowville township, Chester county, have filed with Governor Cooper a protest against the annexation of the section in which they live to York county. Some time ago voters of a part of Chester county filed a petition with Governor Cooper asking that he order an election to decide whether or not this area should be annexed to York county. The protest filed yesterday with the governor is from voters living in a part of the area involved. The protest is against the annexation to York, the part of Chester county in Rowville township between Fishing Creek and the Catawba river. Commissioners of election in the matter were appointed some time ago by Governor Cooper, but they have not yet submitted their report and hence no date for an election has been fixed by the governor. —The State, Friday.

MR. AND MRS. W. S. YANDEL, OF ROCK HILL, SPENT SUNDAY IN CHESTER WITH RELATIVES.

The following dispatch was sent from Atlanta, Ga., yesterday: A dispatch in the city of Chester from $7.50 a barrel to $5 a barrel was announced here tonight by a large supply company. The $5 quotation applies to carload lots of 500 bushels and with the rebate on sacks returned makes the net cost $4 a barrel.

Mr. E. T. Anderson, of Columbia, spent the week-end in the city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jenkins. Mr. Anderson left Sunday night for Charleston where he will locate, holding a responsible position in Dr. Parker's Laboratory.

John P. Kell, a carpenter, who was working on the factory of the Rock Hill Fertilizer Company, had the misfortune to lose his balance and get tripped in some way while working on the building one day last week and fell from same, injuring himself so badly that he died Sunday night. He was taken to the Fennell Infirmary, but it was found impossible to save his life, as he was so badly injured. His remains were taken to Sharon this afternoon for burial, he having been a former resident of that section. He is survived by wife and one son. He was said to have been an splendid citizen and had only moved here during the past year, having built himself a home north of Wintthrop College, —Rock Hill Record.

The News is in receipt of a dispatch from San Francisco dated September 28th, which states that Miss Luilia B. Simpson sailed on that date on the China Mail Liner Nanking, en route from her home in Chester for China, where she will engage in missionary work. According to the figures furnished by steamship officials about the South Carolina, the proportion to population, ranks first in the number of missionaries sent to foreign countries. There were 250 passengers on the Nanking and nearly one-half of these were missionaries.

"Greater Chester," a monthly bulletin gotten out by the Chester Chamber of Commerce, has made its appearance for the month of October, and on the front page carries a picture of the passenger station which will be erected in Chester by the Seaboard Air Line Railway, which will be a duplicate of the station at Manatee, Fla. The picture would indicate that the station to be erected in Chester will be a very desirable one.

Mr. C. O. Hill, who has been agent of the local Southern freight office in Chester for the past seven years, has resigned to accept a similar position with the Southern at Hickory, N. C. We understand Mr. Hill expects to be relieved at an early date but his successor has not yet been named.

The football game between Chester and Lancaster, played on the College street grounds last Friday afternoon, was an easy task for the Chester team, the score being 54 to 0 in favor of Chester. It must be admitted that Chester has a good team and it is also admitted that if they go on against anything with class to it they are going to have to play better ball than they did Friday. No doubt the weak opposition caused the Chester boys to play loose ball but they would do well to tighten up in a number of places in order to combat anything like a real team.

The services last evening in the First Presbyterian church were really enjoyed and a very good congregation was present. The sermon was preached by Rev. F. Ray Riddle, of Lowville, his subject being "Love." The music was especially good, the choir being led by Miss Lucille Randle, of the Winthrop musical faculty. Features of the program were a double mixed quartet, "Nearer My God to Thee," and a selection by the male quartet, "Thou'rt Sins Be As Scarlet." — Rock Hill Herald

A contract has been awarded by the Baldwin Mfg. Co. of Chester, to E. J. Florida, of Greenville, for the erection of a Baptist church, which will cost about $40,000. The new church will be modern in every detail and will have a seating capacity of between five and six hundred. In addition to the main auditorium the building will have a dozen or more Sunday school rooms. With the building of improved streets, water works and sewerage, schools, churches, etc., within a few months, the Baldwin Mill village will be one of the most up-to-date and modern in the South, and will be one of Chester's greatest assets.

Yesterday a total cotton production of 12,123,000 bales was forecast by the department of agriculture, for this year, the estimate being based on the condition of 59.1 per cent on September 25th. The South Carolina yield is estimated at 265,000.

Mr. T. C. Weathersby, who has been managing the Chester office of the Pinnix Realty & Auction Company, since opening in Chester, has resigned to accept a similar position with another concern at Sanford, N.

The general election, in which the women of this State will be given their first opportunity to vote, will be held on Tuesday, November 3, 1903. It is the duty of the electors to vote in the general election. A voter must present his or her registration certificate, and receipts showing that all taxes, including poll tax, assessed, has been paid. It has been alleged that the women will not have presented a poll tax receipt at the polls, and that they will vote in violation of the law against them. In other words, those who have no taxes assessed must them are not required to present tax receipts but some are excluded from presenting their registration certificates. Any one who has not at his tax receipt may secure a duplicate by calling upon the tax assessor, which should be done before the day of election in order to avoid any rush on that day.

The County Board at its meeting yesterday, elected the following county officers for the coming year: E. Orr, superintendent county farm, salary $125 per month; S. O. McKeown, superintendent of chaining, salary $125 per month; R. L. Douglas, county attorney, salary $50 per year, with $7.50 for each magistrate's court case and fee. For higher court cases to be fixed by the board. There were no applicants for a position of county physician.

TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION!

"Overlooking on Credit" has made its broad black mark across the eventful pages of the world's history from the dim archives of time, down to the marvelous and magnificent splendor of the present. It has been the cause of the ruin of nations, the depletion, and its influence in lowering prices cannot be gauged... It has been fully demonstrated to the most skeptical that there is not one particle of a chance on the whole globe for Credit to be had, and that the New and Julius Caesars, but certainly not now, Credit, has split, splintered and shivered agricultural and mercantile nations into a million fragments, and that the Credit of the future is a fiction, a phantasm, a dream. Credit has the reputation that paralyzes the finest efforts of agricultural and commercial enterprise and suffices the only remedy that will save the unfortunate nations from the ruin that is before them. Credit has generation, these frightful satellites have burned themselves into the brains of the people as until "Success" demands a revolution upsetting the old order of things, and the nations are the slaves of the future age just before us that sterling, solid word that Leviathan, of Leviathans, that Masterdon of the English language, "Cash." Yes, the age of the tabular system has come, Over the bleached bones of these barbarians this science has swept and left the touch of

BUY AT HOME

The South Carolina Development Board is starting a state-wide campaign to ask South Carolinians to buy agricultural products grown in South Carolina and manufactured articles made in South Carolina.

In speaking of the matter, the Board says in part: "Few people ever stop to figure up the sum total lost to themselves and their neighbors by following this practice. When they send their money to the mail order houses it leaves the home state circle, the merchant, the banker, the farmer, the clerk and the home labor stand a small chance of ever seeing the money after it leaves on its long journey."

"Communities, counties and states, grow and thrive just to the extent their citizens practice thrift and pride in the products of their own state. The South Carolina manufacturer and merchant pay their taxes to support the home government, contribute and maintain public improvements and contribute to charitable causes, yet some of their neighbors insist on patronizing concerns that pay little or no taxes in South Carolina, but on the other hand pay a percentage of the receipts from sales made in the state, to build up the large cities of the north, east and west. Let us patronize the business men that mingle and deal with us."

Brevinville, Oct. 4. — Thomas P. Colman, speaker of the state house of representatives since 1917, will be a candidate this year to succeed himself as presiding officer, according to formal announcement today. Other members of the Greenville delegation who are seeking behind Mr. Colman's candidacy have received assurance that there is no doubt but that their colleague will be elected. George E. Meyer, of Newberry, is the only other representative yet to announce for this office.

Making Him Useful.

A lady who kept a little curly pony for her pet, sold her on the police to find it. The next day one of the force came around with the dog, very wet and dirty. The lady was overjoyed and asked a number of silly questions among others: "Where did you find my sweet, dear little darling?" "Why, ma'am," said the officer, "a fellow had him tied to a pole and was washing windows with him."

Two Different Views.

"What's wrong, Mrs. Hengrich, your son is supposed to be married. We will write to the dear lad and congratulate him."

Mr. Hengrich agreed (he dare not do otherwise), and his wife picked up her pen. "My darling boy," read the son, "was glorious when your father and I rejoice in your happiness. It has long been our greatest wish that you should marry some good woman. A good woman is heaven's most precious gift to man. She brings out all the best in him and helps him to suppress all that is bad."

Then there was a postscript in different handwriting: "Your mother has been very kind, you know."

PAPER PULP FROM SAW GRASS.

It has become axiomatic in the paper industry that there is no substitute for spruce wood in making paper pulp. And so they have received with a great deal of surprise the recent announcement that a satisfactory paper can be made from the saw grass of Florida, and that a practical method of production has been developed.

Engineers connected with the enterprise say that a preliminary survey reveals that there is in Florida nearly 6,000,000 acres of saw grass. This can be harvested twice a year, yielding 60 tons of paper pulp from each cutting. It would seem therefore that Florida might eventually furnish paper to the whole world, for it is claimed all grades of paper can be made from the grass.

It is not surprising, in the light of past experiments, that paper in the present paper situation should come from such a source. Fiber suitable for paper making has been produced from a number of plants, smoke stems, corn cobs and cotton stalks. But the chief difficulties stood in the way of commercial exploitation of the resource.

In the first place there is not a sufficient supply of any one material, and it is too expensive to gather corn or cotton stalks from a wide area. The second, and perhaps the most important, difficulty is that, because the material is not compact, only a small amount can be placed in the pulp digester at one time, making the production very expensive.

The objection—that of insufficient supply—at first applied even to saw grass, for although there is an enormous quantity, it grows in strong, impenetrable swamp lands and cannot be harvested by ordinary methods. With the later development of a special harvesting machine, of which has been successfully operated, this objection seems to have been eliminated. This machine is an amphibious modification of the wheel harrow that works equally well on land and water. The cutting head being an arrangement of saws set at an angle to the water at such a four feet, it moves rapidly.

The second difficulty—lack of a sufficient quantity of material for the digester—has been removed

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these I would be constipated. It just seemed to eat my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I tried
